- 3.1.5. The Company shall implement (or procure the implementation of) legal, organizational, and technical safeguards that are necessary and sufficient to assure the discharge of obligations prescribed by privacy statutes and subordinate standards to protect personal information from unauthorized or inadvertent access, destruction, disabling, distribution, depersonalization as well as from any other tampering.

3.2. Company Rights

- 3.2.1. In the event that there is doubt whether the use Users are making of the Website is authorized, the Company may at any time and at its absolute discretion delete, disable, or modify a User Account without prior notice.
- 3.2.2. In the event that there is information that a User Account is being used by other Users or third-parties, the Company may at any time and at its absolute discretion delete, disable, or modify such a User Account without giving the user or such third parties prior notice.
- 3.2.3. The Company may monitor a User's IP address while such a User is accessing the Website, and if it is discovered that the User's IP address is being used by other users (or several other users), the Company may at any time and without giving the User prior notice prevent the Website from being accessed from such an IP address until such time as such an IP address is no longer being used by several users.
- 3.2.4. The Company shall not be liable for non-performance or improper performance hereunder or possible damages arising as a consequence of:
 - illegal actions by Internet users designed to breach the Website's security or prevent the Website from functioning normally;

- interruptions in the Website's availability resulting, inter alia, from logic errors, computer viruses, and other extraneous code fragments in the Website's software;
 - no Internet connection (unavailable connection, connection drop-out, etc.) between the User's server and that of the Website;
 - action by Government or municipal authorities as well as other bodies that is part of a police investigation and surveillance operation;
 - the Government (or other bodies) exercising control over the online economic activity of businesses and/or implementing restrictions making the Company's performance hereunder difficult or impossible;
 - other circumstances beyond the Company's control.
- 3.3. The Company shall not be liable for any possible misuse of the Registered Users' personal information in the event that such results from:
- 3.3.1. technical faults in the software, servers, or computer networks beyond the Company's control;
 - 3.3.2. Website outages related to intentional or inadvertent Website misuse by third parties;
 - 3.3.3. disclosure by a Registered User of passwords or Website content to third parties that do not have access to this information;
 - 3.3.4. other similar circumstances outside the Company's control, all subject to Paragraph 3.1.5 of these Terms.
- 3.4. The Company may at any time take the Website down for maintenance even without giving users prior notice.
- 3.5. The Company shall not be liable for incorrect contact information in a User's resume, incomplete information, a resume improperly completed or deleted while using the Website, etc.
- 3.6. The Company reserves the right to modify the body of these Terms and/or the Website Acceptable Use Policy without giving Users notice.

4. User Rights and Undertakings

4.1. A User shall undertake:

- 4.1.1. to comply with these Terms and the Website Policy;
- 4.1.2. not to use the Website to publish information in violation of Russian and international law;
- 4.1.3. not to post false information;
- 4.1.4. not to post and/or transmit information and materials via the Website unless a Registered User is duly authorized to do so.
This is applicable to material protected by copyright, trade marks, patents as well as non-disclosure, confidentiality, etc. agreements, and if this should occur the User shall undertake to assume direct liability.
Publishing any information on the Website, a User shall warrant that he or she has the requisite rights and authority to post, disclose, and transmit such information.
- 4.1.5. not to breach Website security;
- 4.1.6. not to embed client-side executable code or any embedded objects;
- 4.1.7. not to destroy and/or modify any of the Website's content not authorized by such User;
- 4.1.8. not to use telephone, mailing address, or email address information for purposes other than the primary purpose of the Website (employment).

- Personal information from the Website may be accessed and printed for personal use only;
- 4.1.9. not to enroll with another's email address or an address that the Registered User is not authorized to use in this manner;
 - 4.1.10. not to disclose the User Profile access password to third parties.
 - 4.1.11. A Registered User shall undertake to be fully liable for all damages inflicted on it, the Company, and third parties and resulting from intentional or inadvertent password disclosure to a third party. A Registered User shall be responsible for keeping his or her password confidential and for any use made of the Website using such password.
- 4.2. A User may:
- 4.2.1. register on the Company Website by creating an account (a unique login and password) which enables him or her to make use of the Personal Profile for the purposes set forth in these Terms.
 - 4.2.2. use all available Website services provided by the Company free of charge, including responding to Company vacancies, posting resumes, etc.

5. Requirements on Website Content and Acceptable Use Policy for Website Services

- 5.1 Use of the Website services and the content posted to the Website by Registered Users shall meet the requirements set forth in the Website Acceptable Use Policy (Annex 1).

6. Use of Website Materials

- 6.1. Each Registered User shall be responsible for the information posted in his or her name and for the consequences of such information being posted.
- 6.2. The use of Registered Users' Personal Profiles, vacancy pages, and other information found on the Website for purposes other than those in keeping with the intent of the Website shall not be permitted.
- 6.3. The Company may transfer information received from Registered Users via the Website internally to the OMK Group.

7. Accessing Contact Information

- 7.1. Contact information in a Personal Profile or on a Website resume page is automatically visible to and free for the Company.
- 7.2. Any contact information that was ever made visible by a User or a Registered User will always remain visible to the Company.
- 7.3. By signing these Terms, the User consents to receiving any communications from the Company (at any time and without prior notice) by email and/or phone (text messages) to the email address or phone number entered by the User when registering on the Website or provided at any subsequent use of the Website.
A Registered User may opt out of Personal Profile mailings at any time.

8. Processing of Personal Information

- 8.1. By creating a Personal Profile at registration, a Registered User agrees to the terms and conditions below regarding the processing of personal information (including receipt of personal information from a User and/or any third parties, all subject to current Russian statutes) by the Company and grants his or her informed consent to the processing of personal information per Federal Statute No. 152-Φ3 of July 27, 2006 on Personal Information.

- 8.2. This consent is granted by a User during Website registration using a simple electronic signature.

9. Closing Provisions

- 9.1. The Website logo, elements of design, decoration, and general appearance are owned by the Company and may not be used.
- 9.2. Given the technical difficulty of identifying Internet users, the Company shall not be responsible for Registered Users being the persons they purport to be and may not be held liable for any damages suffered by third parties as a result. The Company makes no representation that the software, servers, or computer networks being used by the Website are free of errors and computer viruses. If Website use has resulted in loss of data or equipment damage, the Company may not be held responsible.
- 9.3. The Company makes no representation that the Resume Pages posted to the Website will necessarily be reviewed by the Company.
- 9.4. The posting of information on the Website by any User represents the User's agreement with these Terms (Offer).
- 9.5. Terms of Use, Annex 1: Acceptable Website Use Policy
